

Travel Risk Awards 2020 Postponed:

As organisers of the inaugural Travel Risk Awards, we are saddened to announce that due to the current conditions presented by the COVID-19 virus, the decision has been taken to postpone the awards evening for a short period.

At the forefront of this decision is the operational integrity of the people and providers who make up our travel risk community – it is they who are currently critical stakeholders in the management of the evolving COVID-19 crisis on behalf of their employers and clients.

We will keep you all posted about this important event and thank you to all of our guests, sponsors and stakeholders who have without exception supported this difficult decision.